

Pennant

Hands Touching Hearts is a global outreach effort that gives Americans of all ages the opportunity to decorate handcrafted thank-you gifts for United States military personnel.
Ann M. Cosgrove, program originator. All rights reserved.

The fifth keepsake created for the Hands Touching Hearts gift collection is a pennant.

Made of felt and yarn, it measures 8 1/2 inches wide by 14 inches tall.

Two different versions of the pennant are available for decorating.

The first version is designed to honor an active-duty service member, reservist or veteran that the decorator knows personally.

The second version pays tribute to all the men and women who have pledged to protect and defend our country.

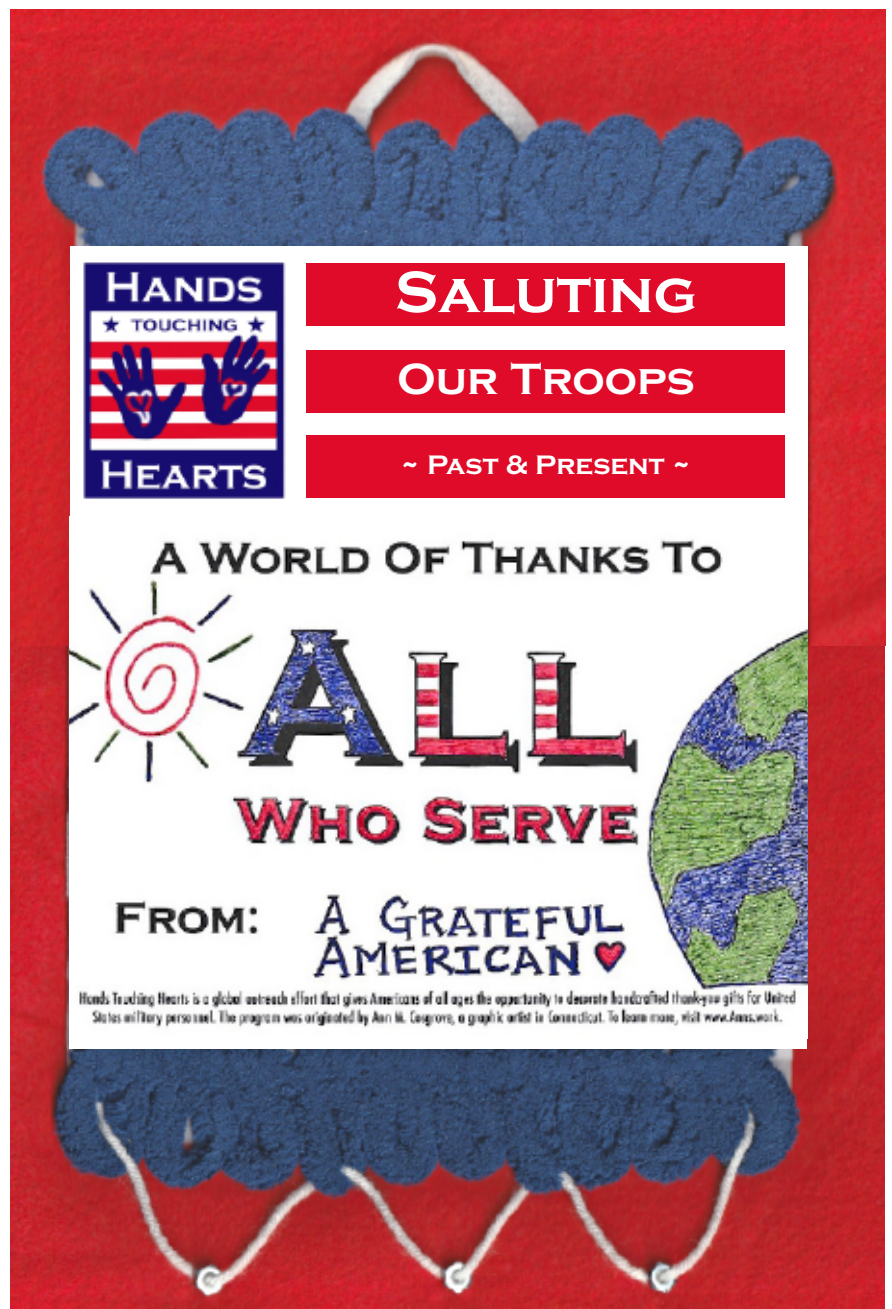

Like all program keepsakes, the pennant is meant to be transformed by the work of the decorator's hands.

For this gift, program participants decorate the center section. Upon completion, the pennant is not only a great personal gift, but also a public proclamation of gratitude.

Photographs of all decorated pennants are uploaded to this archival collection, preserved for posterity and lined up to form the Hands Touching Hearts Military Parade, which can be viewed worldwide.

For more specifics, see the file entitled "Military Parade" in this archival collection.

Hands Touching Hearts is a global outreach effort that gives Americans of all ages the opportunity to decorate handcrafted thank-you gifts for United States military personnel.
Ann M. Cosgrove, program originator. All rights reserved.